

Basket Ball Tournney Drew Large Crowds

GAYLORD WINS CLASS C TITLE, ROSCOMMON, CLASS D

The annual high school basketball tournament has faded into history with Gaylord carrying off the honors for Class "C" schools and Roscommon victors in Class "D." The games were played at Grayling school gym Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights and there were large crowds in attendance on each night. Supt. Gerald L. Poor was the manager, Frank L. Bond was timekeeper, Roy O. Milnes, scorer and Cecil Roberts announcer; Joseph Stripe was in charge of the box-office. The referees were David E. Bates of Harbor Springs and D. W. Gabrysiak of Mt. Pleasant, and they handled the games in a very admirable manner.

Taking the floor for the first games Thursday night were St. Mary's of Gaylord against Johannesburg, Onaway and Mancelona were the second attraction with Grayling and Gaylord closing the evening's card. In the evening's play St. Mary's, Mancelona and Gaylord were the victors.

It is estimated there were 500 people packed the gym for the opening games Thursday night, with the bleachers and balconies filled to capacity.

Adding a lot of color and pep to the games were the various cheer leaders, who tried to keep up the spirits of the losing teams, and cheered loud and long for the winners.

Following is a resume of each one of the games played:

St. Mary's (Gaylord) 36; Johannesburg 15

Coach John Criske's St. Mary's of Gaylord soundly trounced Johannesburg in a fast-moving game Thursday night.

Floyd Fisher was high scorer for the evening for St. Mary's and scored 17 points. His brother and team mate, Mitchell Fisher, added to the 36 points the Catholic school piled up. Floyd played one of the best games seen on the floor that night.

At the half St. Mary's lead with a score of 20 against 12 for the Johannesburg five. On Johannesburg's team Robert Burns played a good game, scoring 7 points, but he and his teammates were not able to break down the opposition.

Onaway 19; Mancelona 24

The Polar Bears of Mancelona eliminated Onaway from the basketball tournament Thursday night by a score of 24 to 19. Bud Griffore, James and Howard Gaylord of Mancelona captured the honors for their team. Jack Severance was the high scorer for Onaway with six points. Coach Tuckett's boys got off to a good start but could not keep up with the pace set by the quintet from Mancelona.

The game was good and fast right up to the final bell. The score was close until the last quarter when the Antrim county boys pulled away.

Gaylord 27; Grayling 15

In the last game Thursday night Grayling High lost to Gaylord by the score of 27 to 15. Gaylord, winning this game, gave them an even or better chance for the title of Class "C."

Ross Thompson was high scorer man for Grayling with six points to his credit. Arnold Matthews of Gaylord was high scorer for that team.

For some of the seniors this will be the last game of their high school career. They are John Deckrow, Bill Kraus, Bob Herbinson, and Lawrence Wylie. They will graduate this June.

Roscommon 19; St. Mary's 14

The Bucks of Roscommon beat St. Mary's of Gaylord Friday night, 19-14, in a very close game. Not 'till the last quarter did Roscommon draw away.

With Lawton Knapp high scorer for Roscommon, and his teammate Bill Emery, the Gaylord team could not quite get through to win the game. Floyd Fisher was high scorer in Friday's game for St. Mary's. Roscommon was leading at the half by only 4 points. Mitchell Fisher of St. Mary's was the only player in the seven games played here who was called out of the game for fouls.

The crowd that attended the games Friday were the noisiest but smallest crowd of the tournament. About 250 people were on hand.

Frederic 24; Vanderbilt 22

Coach Robert Lee's Frederic boys eked out a victory of 24-22 over the Vanderbilt quintet Friday night.

With the score 10-13 in favor of Vanderbilt at the half, Frederic pulled away to win the game and to be in the playoff against Roscommon Saturday night.

Bob Horsell and Carl Glazier of Vanderbilt were the outstanding players of the evening, with Cram of Frederic sharing these honors. High scorer for the evening was Glazier of Vanderbilt, with eight points.

Frederic is coached by Robert Lee. Coach Provost leads the Vanderbilt boys.

Roscommon 44; Frederic 17

Roscommon defeated Frederic Saturday with a score of 44-17. By beating Frederic, Roscommon received and earned the Class 'D' tournament trophy.

Lawton Knapp, Jim Cousineau and Bob Hughes played a good game for Roscommon, with Kellogg and Cram outstanding for Frederic. High scorer for the evening was Knapp, with 11 points.

At the half the score was 21-5 for Roscommon. The Frederic boys simply could not get up enough steam to crush the Roscommon boys in the last two periods of the game.

Gaylord 30; Mancelona 25

After the best, fastest and noisiest of the seven games that were played Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, the Blue Devils of Gaylord won the Class "C" championship by defeating the Polar Bears of Mancelona by a score of 30-25.

Arnold Matthews and Earl Fesler of Gaylord and Howard Gaylord of Mancelona took outstanding honors for the teams. This was a very exciting game.

The score at the half was 10-12 in favor of Gaylord. However, Mancelona was constantly threatening and not until the final quarter was Gaylord safe.

Gaylord's team is coached by George Brotherton, while Harold Dunn coaches Mancelona.

It has been estimated, that approximately 2500 people attended the games all three nights.

CHARGED WITH WIFE BEATING, AWAITS TRIAL IN JAIL

Harry Walz is in jail, charged by his wife with assault and battery. The latter said to us that Mr. Walz beat her up frequently and that she had reached a point where she couldn't endure it any longer. On one occasion she said he threatened her with a knife. On another occasion, she said, he heated an iron poker in the fire and threatened to brand a cross on each cheek.

Mrs. Walz is small, with dark hair and very attractive. Mr. Walz had been in jail for several days awaiting trial after having entered a plea of "not guilty" to a charge of assault and battery. He was brot before Justice Petersen's court again Tuesday afternoon and reaffirmed his former plea. Asked if ready for trial he said that he was not because his attorney could not get here for the trial. He said that John Donohue of Roscommon was his attorney and demanded that the trial be put off until such time as he could appear.

Justice Petersen adjourned the trial until next week Tuesday at 2:00 p. m. In the meantime Mr. Walz is in jail in default of furnishing $300 bonds, with two sureties.

Ice Fishing, 1940 Style

Mr. and Mrs. J. Heath of Grayling drop into ice of Lake Margrethe in their ski-equipped cabin plane and soon have two pike. Many of Michigan's less accessible northern lakes will be visited by increasing numbers of fishermen in future as airplane comes into more general use. Lower Michigan pike lakes are closed to all fishing March 1 to May 15, those in Upper Peninsula, March 15 to May 15. (Photo by Department of Conservation).

THIEVES BREAK INTO SPIKE'S AND FRITZ HEATH'S SCHOOL OF INSTRUCTION

Thieves broke into Spike's Keg O' Nails Saturday night, shortly after closing time, which is 2:00 a. m. They had forced one of the front doors open.

Soon after, as night marshal Morgan Paige patrolled the business places, trying the doors, he discovered the broken door and called Frank Bennett for assistance. Together they searched the premises and found nothing except that on a rear door which locks with a catch and also a bolt, that the bolt had been drawn.

Apparently, whoever may have been in the building at the time the officers entered, escaped thru the back door. Some of the employees of the place were called back and the place examined but nothing was found to be missing.

Gas Station Pilfered

On the same night thieves broke into Fritz Heath's gas station near the AuSable bridge. Here they got away with about $1.50 in pennies and $2.00 in nickels and a revolver. This is the third or fourth time these two places had been burglarized.

The Weather

With the big pools of water on the streets and the snow sliding off the roofs of houses, it looks as the spring is really on its way. The sun has shown more this week and melted the ice off main street. School children can be seen in groups on bare places around the school shooting marbles. That's a sure sign of spring.

Friday morning the Grayling Fish Hatchery thermometer registered 18 above zero at 6 o'clock but only gained 2 points by 8 p. m. Saturday morning was the lowest, the mercury dropping to zero during the night, and rising to 32 above at 8 p. m. Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the thermometer registered in the 20's, dropping to 14 above this morning (Thursday).

Census Taking Starts In April

ACCURATE ANSWERS TO FIFTY-SEVEN QUESTIONS REQUIRED

Starting April 1, Uncle Sam will have an army of men and women in the United States knocking at doors and asking for answers to 57 questions about every household. Most of the questions to be asked are similar to those of 1930, when the last census was taken. Once every ten years, by constitutional provision, a national census is taken. The answers will be sent by registered mail to Washington where only the employees of the Census Bureau will see them.

Gathering information in a decennial census is such a public service that probably almost no citizen ever thinks otherwise than of wishing to be helpful in the undertaking. Yet the director of the census, William L. Austin, has issued a memorandum pointing out that a person may be fined up to $100 or sentenced to 60 days in jail for refusal to answer a census question, or may pay a still higher penalty for giving intentionally incorrect information. At the same time census employees are strictly required to keep such information confidential. A fine of $1,000 or two years imprisonment or both might follow the divulging of personal data to an outsider. Under these conditions it is not worth the price to try to keep a secret from the census taker.

Questions on population cover a wide field, dealing with the location of the house; whether the house is owned or rented; the value, if the house is owned or the rental rate; if it is on a farm or in the city; the name and relationship of each person in the house; the sex, color and race of all persons; the age last birthday and the marital status of all persons in the house.

Information will also be sought on questions of education, place of birth, citizenship and residence.

There will be questions, too, on employment; whether the person at work is assigned to a public emergency work or in private industry. For unemployed persons, the census takers will want to know questions such as the following: "Have you had any previous experience? If so, what class of work? How long employed?"

Other questions will be asked about wages:

"What wages did you get during the working period in 1939? How many weeks, full-time weeks, did you work last year?" All answers to questions are carried to March 30, 1940.

Census takers will ask about income. They will say, for example: "What is your Social Security number? What deductions, if any, were made for the Federal old-age insurance or railroad retirement in 1939? How much were these deductions? Were they made from all of your wages, from one-half or more or from less than half of your wages?"

Women will face queries such as: How old are you? (Answers such as 21 last birthday, when you're 47 or 50 won't do. That's false information.) Are you married or single? How many times have you been married? How old were you when you were married for the first, or only time? How many children have you had?

In the housing census, questions pertaining to the house's structure, appearance and possession will be asked of the owner or lessee. The type of structure, interior, exterior, need of major repairs, year of erection and location are subjects of questions to be asked. The number of rooms, water supply, toilet and bath facilities, lighting equipment and occupancy status of the house or home will also be inquired about by the census takers.

The possessions in the house will also be considered. For example they will want to know how many radios, if any, are in the house; what refrigeration equipment, what heating equipment you have. They will also want to know what the fuel is used in heating. Questions as to the value of the house occupied and unoccupied, furnished and unfurnished, will also be asked. Other questions will be: "How much mortgage have you on this house? What payments do you make on it? How often do you make those payments? What type of person or institution is holding this mortgage?"

Federal officials are anxious to assure the public that this confidential information will not leak out so that it can be used by other Government agencies. That is why they say: "When your census report gets to Washington, an individual doesn't mean any more than a snowflake in a blizzard. You're just a statistic."

Deer Situation In Crawford Co.

To many people the month of March means that spring is just around the corner but to our wildlife friends, especially the deer, March is a "blackout" month and it has been estimated that in over-crowded areas many deer will die from starvation. The present condition of deer within our own county has been reported as favorable in some areas, while deer yarding up in the Portage Creek swamp are reported in poor shape. Efforts have been made by the Grayling Sportsmen's Club to get hay into that area but due to heavy snow and blocked roads very little success has been made to aid these deer.

Through the generous support of Geo. Burke, who has purchased several tons of hay this winter for deer feeding, and along with John Bruun who has cooperated with the Sportsmen's Club in buying more hay, deer feeders have been placed in the swamp on M-76 and M-93 and are filled up three times each week. Hay has also been placed in trees within easy reach for the deer in other parts of the county. With present weather conditions it will take an estimated three or four tons of hay to carry these deer through for this winter.

The feeding of deer at these feeders has caused considerable attention by local and outside people and very seldom any evening or a week-end goes by that cars cannot be seen loaded with people watching the deer feeding. This writer has observed some 72 deer feeding or within easy reach of hay, on the Kalkaska road.

DEMOCRATS ENJOYED BANQUET AND TALKFEST

Thursday night marked the beginning of the campaign activities of the local Democratic party for this year. It opened with a chicken dinner with about 75 in attendance. County chairman Orel Levan made the arrangements and with Fred Bishaw prepared the feed and served it at the Moose hall. The seating capacity was limited and the reservations were soon taken up, however Chairman Levan says he hopes that no Democrat will feel slighted on not being asked to buy a ticket, for as many as possible were contacted.

The dinner was served Frank-enmuth style and was very fine. Chairman Levan, as toastmaster explained that the purpose of this get-together was to formulate an organization to carry on the fall campaign work in Crawford county. He called on several and there were many who responded with impromptu but enthusiastic talks.

The price of the banquet was $1.00, and a part of this was put into a fund to pay the expenses of a delegate and for other campaign work.

Womans Club

One of the most interesting talks of the season, given at the Woman's Club was given by Mrs. Harry Connine Monday evening at the school. Mrs. Connine spoke on the country of Ecuador, its inhabitants, their costumes and mannerisms, and other interesting facts about this beautiful place. Mrs. Connine was hostess for the meeting.

Next Monday evening the club will meet in room 44 at the school house, with Mrs. G. L. Poor as hostess. Misses Patten, Anderson and LaFave will present the program.

TIGER CATCHER IS DELEGATE TO HIGHWAY MEETING

George "Birdie" Tebbetts, catcher for the Detroit Tigers, has been named chairman of the Grayling, Mich., delegation to attend the 10th annual winter convention of the Taft Memorial Highway association here Friday and Saturday. Tebbetts was named by the Grayling chamber of commerce.

Others who will attend the sessions of the highway convention from Grayling will be: Dr. C. R. Keyport, C. J. McNamara, president of the Grayling winter sports association; Harold MacNeven, secretary of the same organization; T. P. Peterson, R. A. Wright and George Olson.

Tebbetts is a leading civic worker during the winter months at Grayling, which is one of the important Michigan summer resort towns on the Taft highway. One of the largest winter sports carnivals in Michigan is held annually at Grayling and through the efforts of Tebbetts, many additional visitors were attracted to that sport last winter.

Tebbetts has assured Manager R. L. Park of the Lakeland chamber of commerce that he will attend both sessions of the convention Friday night and Saturday night of this week. Other Tigers will also attend, as well as some of the sports writers with the club. The annual winter banquet of the association will be held at the New Florida hotel Saturday night. The public is invited to all sessions of the convention.—Lakeland, Florida, Sunday Ledger and Star-Telegram.

TURNING GROCERY INTO RESTAURANT

Willard Harwood has decided to discontinue his grocery business and will make his building over into a beerless dine and dance restaurant. He plans to make a dance floor out of his Sandwich shop, that adjoins the grocery store, which will make a fine dancing space of 18 x 26 feet. His home at the rear of the store will be remodelled into three private dining rooms. A space 14 x 18 feet will be used for floor space where floor shows will be put on and where amateurs will be welcome to perform at any time. The place will be equipped with four loud speakers and a large spotlight for the floor show.

Only hamburgers, foot-long hotdogs and short order meals will be served. Everyone from 9 to 90 will be welcome.

Willard says that this will be one of the largest quick lunch restaurants of this sort in the country. A name for the place has not been found so he is offering a cash prize for the best name submitted. The contest begins now and will end April 15. Remodelling will begin after March 16 and a grand opening will be held sometime the last of April.

Willard began the grocery business with a small fruit and vegetable store and expanded his business into a fine grocery store and later added a sandwich shop. Now we predict that he will make a success of his new venture.

MIGRATORY BIRDS ALREADY ARRIVING

Though northward migration of song birds has only begun, an experienced observer already can count upwards of 40 species, resident and newly arrived, in southern Michigan.

Records of spring arrival of migratory birds is kept at conservation department wildlife experiment stations at Rose Lake, Swan Creek and Prairie Farm. Pine and evening grosbeaks were observed by department ornithologists in Lake county recently. Mourning doves and bluebirds are reported arriving and meadow larks are expected soon.

Weather conditions this winter are considered to have been favorable to bird life.

Common Sense In Pediatric Practice

Under this title, Dr. Caldwell B. Summers, writing in the Journal of the Missouri Medical Association, offers some good sound advice to his fellow practitioners. Because the same might be absorbed with profit by all patients, its substance is offered as follows:

Do not be unduly alarmed because the child, at the beginning of an illness, appears desperately sick but call the physician immediately and permit him to assume responsibility. There is rarely a need for "spectacular therapy" such as blood transfusions because the child will usually improve with careful nursing. In all cases it is extremely important to have a diagnosis as early as possible so that the child and other members of the family will be protected.

In about one case in 100, specific therapy is indicated. These cases include diphtheria, scarlet fever and meningitis. For the other 99 cases, good symptomatic treatment with simple remedies is all that is necessary.

Fever is nature's means of combating infection. Do not be in a hurry to reduce it. The fevered patient needs liquids and vitamins more than anything else. If the child refuses water, offer him fruit juices sweetened.

Diet of the sick child should contain plenty of protein and sugar. Give the child all his appetite craves. Raw milk, with its heavy curds, is more likely to overtax the digestive tract than is beefsteak. If milk is given, boil it and skim it.

Purging the child daily is unnecessary and may be harmful. A patient, eating little and obtaining no exercise, is likely to be sluggish in elimination. Orange juice should replace cathartics as it often performs the same function while furnishing vitamin C.

Recovery should proceed slowly. No child with a temperature above normal should be allowed out of bed. Even after fever subsides, the patient should not be allowed to go about his usual daily routine. After a severe illness, the heart needs a rest, commensurate with the length of the illness, the type of infection and the general condition of the child.

Nature knows best. Let her have her way. A child with typhoid fever cannot recover in a day, whatever treatment may be given. No law demands that a boil be incised or a tonsillar abscess lanced on the first or second day of its appearance.

Nursing care is advisable in special cases which will be designated by the attending physician. For the most part, the mother, who is more interested in the patient than anyone else possibly could be, will make the most competent nurse once she is instructed in her duties.

The first step toward the treatment of infection is the establishment of cleanliness. Some practitioners, as well as nearly all laymen, place too much trust in antiseptics. These have their place in the sickroom, to be sure, but soap and water or a warm salt solution is generally more effective in treating skin infections, abscessed ears, purulent noses, foul mouths and other mucopurulent conditions.

Whooping Cough A Needless Illness

(Sanitarian Joseph Maier is attending second semester of the University of Michigan. During his absence Mr. Frank Jankowski will serve in his place).

Needless Whooping Cough
With the reappearance of Spring, innumerable cases of whooping cough will be encountered in virtually every community. Most children will recover. A certain percentage between the ages of one and five years will die. All will suffer distress—which parents, attending a child through its paroxysms and night-vomiting spells, will share.

All this is the most regrettable because whooping cough can be prevented.

The child enters on life unprovided with armor against the most common disease of childhood. Once a case occurs, whooping cough spreads rapidly through a school or neighborhood. It cannot be effectively quarantined.

There is no mitigating the fact that for every child suffering the tortures of whooping cough, some ignorant or neglectful adult responsible for its care, is responsible.

The State Department of Health provides vaccine without cost to all physicians. It advises, as do most doctors, that the child be immunized as early as three months and not later than six months after birth.

To vaccinate the young child against whooping cough before the outbreak of an epidemic is to practice the two cardinal principles of preventive medicine: To protect the individual against the group and to protect the group against the individual. Failure to take full advantage of an important scientific advance is to court almost certain trouble.

BLUE GOOSE LINES

Frequent complaints have been made by various police departments because of improper lighting on automobiles. I want to discuss especially the matter of tail lights.

Have you ever had the experience of driving on a highway on a foggy, rainy night and suddenly realizing that there was a car parked a few feet ahead which you had not noticed because it had no reflectors or tail lights burning? If you did, you will know how dangerous this condition can be.

The purpose of a tail light is to warn other drivers behind you, and therefore it is necessary that this equipment be in first class condition. The law requires it. Police should enforce it.

Every mechanical part of an automobile should be in excellent condition to insure perfect performance. When the car is mechanically perfect, the driver's attitude is right, and he exercises good judgment and proper courtesy, automobile driving will become much safer.

It's Smart to Drive Carefully!

The pedestrian has been mentioned often in this column. It is necessary to continually remind readers of the fact that the pedestrian problem in traffic safety is one of the most acute in this country.

More than forty per cent of the automobile fatalities in 1939 were pedestrians. Why don't we, then, pay more attention to our walking habits.

The pedestrian should cross only at the intersection and in the crosswalk, and not between intersections. Motorists are required to observe due caution in exercising their right-of-way between intersections; so should the pedestrian be required to exercise similar caution in proceeding on his right-of-way in the crosswalk. Keep to the right on crosswalks. Do not meander all over the intersection.

It's Smart to Walk Carefully!

SEE WORK BRING MAJOR USEFULNESS

It must have been a thrill to the officers and enrollees of Camp Hartwick Pines CCC camp to witness a vast army of people enjoying the fruits of their labors. This was manifest almost every week end during the past winter months when thousands came here to enjoy winter sports.

Few of these revellers realized that back of Grayling's winter sports programs there had been hundreds of men hours labor in order to make it possible to have such a feature. Engineers had spent many hours laying out a remodeling plan for the Grayling park, and then the officers and veterans of Hartwick Pines camp came onto the job.

It was a huge program that was unfolded before them. Big jobs had to be done. Thousands of yards of earth had to be moved; excavations and grades had to be established and worked out; structures had to be erected, and an almost unmentionable number of jobs had to be done. All these to fit into the huge master plan reconstruction program that had been assigned to this camp.

With the park hardly half finished, winter weather unleashed literally thousands of people who wanted to have a part in winter sports, most of whom looked to Grayling to furnish them what they wanted.

It must have been gratifying and inspiring to the officers and men of Hartwick Pines CCC camp to sense the fact that what they had been doing had not been done in vain. The pleasure that must have come to the men of the Camp can only be surmised, but it was obvious that their hearts must have beat with pride as they witnessed the big crowds enjoying what their toil had made possible.

Realization of a "Job well done" in itself is gratifying, and when others share in it, then the world just seems to smile its sweetest. May each and every officer and enrollee having a part in Grayling's winter sports park always have occasion to remember their experiences here with sincere pleasure.

Capt. Walter Maxwell is the commanding officer of Hartwick Pines Camp; J. B. Schwerdt, superintendent of operations; George F. Seeley, senior foreman, land architect; Royal A. Fultz, senior foreman, engineer; August P. Stobar, foreman; Robert G. Amos, foreman, architect; William M. Malone, junior foreman; Abraham J. Derusha, mechanic; Herbert Haley, toolkeeper; Harry Moffatt, educational adviser.

"Happy Days", official organ of all CCC camps, carried an exceptionally interesting story about this camp and Grayling winter park in a recent issue. This goes to millions of CCC enrollees, in camps scattered throughout the entire United States.

CAMP HARTWICK PINES

SP-8 Mich. V-2690th Co.

Tell the World

If you have something good, tell the world. It isn't bragging. It is an exchange of ideas on which healthy progress is based. Your success will help the other fellow and his success will help you. The CCC Happy Days, which published last week an extended account of the success of the Grayling Winter Sports park and carnival, is probably the most unique and dynamic publication in the country for the exchange of success stories. Each week, throughout the country, men who are doing things for camp and community and who seek to do a better job than the other fellow, seize on the Happy Days to learn what other camps and other communities are doing.

The Grayling Winter Sports story is a good success story. It is better than the one of the man who dragged the wolf into his door and made a fur coat out of the wolf's hide. The citizens of Grayling who promoted the winter sports did a very fine thing in a very big way, that may very well be the envy of many communities which had the same problem of a long, dull winter, the same opportunity, but not the same enterprise. They turned their greatest liability into their greatest asset. They took their snow off the debit side of the ledger and put it on the credit side. They developed a great play program for the happiness of many people. A big success story that many people in other communities will read about in Happy Days. If we are smart, we will watch the Happy Days weekly for the success stories of other communities. There may be other attractions to be added to the year around program of Grayling, that other communities have developed successfully. The local service clubs should find the Happy Days a source of important information. It is a clearing house of success stories of camps and communities.

The Oldtimers' picture contest that is appearing in the Detroit News had as one of its entries a picture of Tom Stephens' Otsego baseball team. This brought back memories to many of those who remember Tom Stephens and his baseball team. In the footnotes Tom was called the "roving lumberman" and the Paul Bunyan of baseball. Those were the days some 25 years back that excursion trains were run to Grayling from all corners to witness the Otsego-Grayling games. It was then that Grayling had the team that went places in baseball, and was managed by none other than "Hawk" Hanson.

Frank Bennett, proprietor of the Hanson Cafe, doesn't intend to miss anything that may add modernity to his restaurant. A new type stainless steel refrigerator, specially designed for that place, has just been installed. This beautiful piece of equipment has compartments for everything that might be needed for a modern eating place. Much of the refrigerator is of glass, affording customers to see for themselves the fine assortment of foods on hand. A new steel serving cabinet too adds to the convenience of the place. In the kitchen a new electric dish washer and drier does that part of the work better than can be done by hand. Also new closed cupboard in the kitchen keep foods sanitary and in perfect condition.

Al Roberts tendered his resignation from the city council, Monday evening, to take effect the following day. Mr. Roberts served on the village council for 18 years, and after the village became an incorporated city, he continued on the council. Having been engaged to serve as superintendent of the new municipal electric light and power plant his resignation from the council was necessary. He also served the city by being a member of the county board of supervisors, in which capacity he will continue as it does not conflict with his duties as plant superintendent. A successor to Mr. Roberts will be appointed by the council at an early date.

MOOSE WINS SECOND PLACE IN TOURNAY

Grayling Moose basketball team won second place in the independent tournament held at Gaylord, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, and came home with a nice trophy. Besides that Leo and Paul Lovely were picked on the all-tournament five and received individual trophies. This was the second time this season the Moose won second place in a tournament, having been runner-up in the Houghton Lake series.

The opening night of the tournament Monday, they played the team from Camp 672 (Higgins Lake), and won by three points, the score reading 33 to 30. Tuesday night they were tickled pink when they came out victorious in the game with the Hanson Cafe team from Grayling, winning in an overtime fray by the score of 32-30. Wednesday night they took the floor against their old rivals, Gaylord, and trounced them to the tune of 23 to 14. Except for four field goals all the rest of Gaylord's points were made on free throws. Winning from Gaylord placed Grayling against the colored lads from Houghton Lake and they met their downfall when they were turned back by a score of 26-23. All games in which the Moose played during the tourney were hard fought.

Did you notice that March came in like a little lamb. Well you know what that means, it'll go out like a lion. It'll be Easter bonnet time too that's the worst of it and we may have to put our ear muffs back on again for a week or so.

The Ladies National League met at the Grange Hall Wednesday evening for the regular meeting. After the business meeting, a social hour was spent until lunch was served.

Tuesday morning, Mrs. Herbert Rowland, assisted by Mrs. Emerson Frye, and Mrs. Nels Olson entertained 12 ladies at a "kidnap" breakfast. Each lady came as she was dressed when they called for her, making the party a lot of fun. Each contributed a small amount for their breakfast, the proceeds going into the Milk Fund.

Little Jimmy LaGrow celebrated his second birthday anniversary Tuesday and had as his guests Mrs. Marie Jensen, Mrs. Robert Sorenson and his little cousin, Nancy Sorenson. His mother, Mrs. Wm. Carl Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Peterson, has the honor of being one of the ten best students in the senior class at Hillsdale College. Carl, majoring in chemistry, has 2.527 for a point average. His photograph together with those of the other nine, and a story of honors they had earned appeared in a recent issue of "The Collegian", the college newspaper. Congratulations, Carl.

Leo Macdonnell in his Detroit Times Sports column says that "In anticipation of snow, Dizzy Trout plans to send to Grayling for 'Suicide Sal,' Birdie Tebbetts' famous toboggan at Grayling, Mich." Too we see in the "Tiger Interludes" in the Times that "Harold (Spike) MacNeven, Grayling's leading citizen is visiting in Lakeland, Fla." Bet Spike'll be buying a new hat after he sees that edition.

The Women of the Moose and their families and friends enjoyed a social evening together at the Moose Temple Monday evening. Pinochle and bunco were the order of entertainment with honor scores going to Mrs. E. S. Chalker and Mrs. Frank Roth for bunco, and Mrs. Floyd Loveley, and Mrs. Lawrence Hunter for pinochle. Mrs. Sherman Neal received the door prize. A delicious lunch was served later in the evening. Mrs. Middle LaMotte and her committee were in charge of the entertainment. There will be another such meeting next Monday evening, March 11th.

The Mason-Legionnaire pinochle tournament is going along good. Tuesday evening the Masons picked up 2150 points, from four out of five tables in play. This reduces the Legion lead from 5000 points last week to 3700 this week. With just two more weeks to play, and with the Masons' catching up, it's hard to tell who will win. Winners of this tournament will play the winners of the Moose-Oddfellows tournament. Let's see more Masons and Legionnaires at the next meeting, next Tuesday night. The Oddfellows are about 5000 points ahead of the Moose following the Monday night's games.

Willard Cornell received the sad word Monday noon of the sudden death of his mother Mrs. Willard Cornell Sr., at her home in Harbor Springs. Surviving the deceased are her husband, three sons and two daughters, Willard, who is physical director in Grayling schools, Douglas and Robert at home. Mrs. Edgar Flory, located in Indiana and Miss Ruth, a teacher in the Traverse City public schools. Mr. Cornell has the sympathy of his pupils and countless Grayling friends in his bereavement.

Non-partisan News Letter
Michigan Press Association

By GENE ALLEMAN

Lansing—Cynics of small towns are wont to wisecrack: "They roll up the sidewalks at 9 p. m."

At Houghton in the Keweenaw peninsula, which sets out into Lake Superior like a slender finger, sidewalks vanish at the first of November and re-appear about Easter Sunday.

Having just returned from the seventh annual Upper Peninsula highway conference held at the copper city, we know whereof we write. And perhaps therein lies an interesting yarn.

The disappearing sidewalks are due, however, to a four months' long winter which brings layers upon layers of snow and eventually buries pedestrian paths far from sight. Last winter was one of those "exceptional seasons" of which native talk in reverent awe if not downright braggadocio. The snow accumulated to the record-smashing total of 226 inches.

Now for a Tall One!

President Grover P. Dillman of Michigan College of Mining and Technology relates this one:

"While in Chicago last fall I happened to have luncheon with Robert Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago. He asked me how the winters were at Houghton.

"I said I liked them fine, but that last winter we did experience some extraordinary weather. A March blizzard raged for two nights and three days. We closed the college two days. A Chicago passenger train became snow-bound somewhere near Houghton and for 21 hours no one knew where it was. Roads were blocked. Traffic was paralyzed. Snow was up to the windows of the second story of houses.

"Finally when the storm had subsided, highway crews went out on snowshoes to find the highways. Carrying long poles, they walked ahead of rotary snowremoval machines and prodded the poles down into the snow to locate tops of stranded automobiles left on the roads. The snow was that deep.

"I'll never forget the dirty look that President Hutchins gave me. To this day I believe he thought that next to Paul Bunyan himself I was the biggest liar he ever heard of."

Far North as Quebec

The vanishing sidewalks (and automobiles) are but an introduction to a post-depression development in the Upper Peninsula.

Houghton, for example, is as far north as Quebec, Canada! It is farther north than Duluth, Minnesota.

Yes, it snows there at the slightest provocation and we're beginning to believe it is a mere confirmed winter habit. Infact, while we were witnessing the 54th annual ski tournament at "Suicide Hill" at Ishpeming, home of the famed Biella brothers, a raging snowstorm blew off Lake Superior and in five minutes time had completely obliterated the hill. Fifteen minutes later the air cleared, and competition was resumed. But in a half hour it was snowing again. And so it went.

This season the snowfall has been almost disappointingly light, less than 90 inches on March 1. While skiing and hockey have been leading spectator sports in the Upper Peninsula for years, outdoor winter sports have had a tremendous boom during the past few years. They portray brighter days for this air-conditioned playground of the Middle West where winters are long, summers are short.

Ski Tows, Toboggans

But don't think of Upper Peninsula winter sports in terms of "suicide hills" where hardy Finlanders and Scandinavians risk their necks for the thrill of 200-foot acrobatic leaps in mid-air. There are seven ski jumps in this region.

Tenderfoot ski amateurs will find ski tows in operation at these points north of the Straits of Mackinac: Iron River, Ishpeming, Houghton, Hancock and two at King's Gateway south of Watersmeet.

Here is a twentieth century way of taking your winter sports capsule without getting the bitter taste.

A ski tow is a long cable reaching from the top of the ski run to the bottom of the hill. At the top (the hill at Hancock is over 600 feet high) is an engine that revolves a big drum. After skiers have descended the hill, they grab on to the cable and are slowly pulled to the top, unfatigued and unwinded for another breath-taking slide.

Ski tows have been provided in the Lower Peninsula at Petoskey, Cadillac and Alpena, according to our information.

It is a new wrinkle for Michigan in winter sports enjoyment.

Keeping Roads Open

Casual remarks to Lansing friends that we had just been at Houghton elicited comments, most of which were like this: "Well, did you have any trouble getting there?"

Times have apparently changed! Today the state expends nearly half a million dollars each winter to maintain roads in the Upper Peninsula people will as the total maintenance fund is used north of the Straits to keep open one-fifth of the state's highway mileage. Sixty-five percent of this money pays for removal of snow.

If you have never taken a trip during the heart of winter into the land of Longfellow's "Hiawatha" and the fabulous story-telling Paul Bunyan, you have a new experience and a thrill to look forward to. And rest assured that the "traditional hospitality of Upper Peninsula people will assist you in having a real good time.

From the office of
Auditor General
Vernon J. Brown

Lansing, March 4—Urgent recommendation that every property owner in Michigan carefully check the tax record of his holdings was made today by Auditor General Vern J. Brown.

Unless such a precaution is taken, Brown said, scores of owners may face the loss of their property—or at least experience legal inconveniences—through errors or oversights which may be several years old.

Under several statutes the auditor general has been directed by the legislature to proceed with the disposition of property on which there are tax delinquencies. As chairman of the state land office board, Brown has had brought to his attention scores of incidents where title to homes and other property has been clouded because the owners have not carefully checked the tax status of their holdings.

He is fearful, he said, that hundreds of additional cases may arise out of the 1940 tax sale which is scheduled for May 7.

"The last legislature directed that the state land office board proceed with the sale of lands upon which there have been certain tax delinquencies," Brown said. "Our experiences to date have been somewhat surprising."

"We find many cases where taxpayers honestly have overlooked the fact that some forgotten levy has been left unpaid. Perhaps it is a small special assessment. Perhaps the tax which has been paid has been erroneously applied by a tax collecting official to some other parcel of land. In any event, the owner finds one of two things—either that he must pay an unsuspected delinquent tax or that his property actually has reverted to the state or has been acquired by a tax title buyer."

Brown urged every property owner to carefully examine the tax sale lists which are now being published in each county in the state to determine the exact tax status of homes and land.

He pointed to an instance which has come to the attention of the land board since this agency commenced sale of delinquent lands. A Detroit owning property in Montcalm county has in his possession a statement showing that all his taxes are paid.

He does not, however, have tax receipts. The tax for 1934 was not credited to him, although he made payment. The land has been assigned to the state department of conservation, under the law, but the owner's first knowledge of the transfer was his official notification of the sale.

"Fortunately, our state government still has a human element in it," Brown said. "In this case we probably will cancel the transaction and give this man back the title to his land. In any event, he is not going to lose it."

"There may be, however, other incidents in which government leniency won't be possible and to guard against such cases we strongly advise that each property owner study the tax lists published in local newspapers to see if his property is listed, wrongly or correctly, as tax delinquent."

Charlotte, March 3—An aged Eaton county couple has learned with consternation that the homestead was up for tax sale because they have overlooked a special assessment against it amounting to 98 cents.

A hurried trip to the office of the Auditor General, Vernon J. Brown, cleared matters up because the property has not yet received the attention of tax title buyers.

The list of delinquent tax property of Crawford County appears in this issue of the Avalanche. This is a protection for property owners, many of whom may not know, otherwise, that their property is in danger of being sold for delinquent taxes. Property owners should make careful check of their descriptions by comparing them with this published list.

CHEVROLET FEBRUARY SALES SHOW INCREASE

Detroit, Feb. 28—Retail sales of Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks continued in large volume throughout the second 10 days of February, totaling 21,523 for that period and 46,608 for the month to date, it was announced at the company's headquarters here today.

This is an increase of 12,957 units or 38.5 per cent over sales for the first 20 days of February, 1939. Sales in the second 10 days increased by 4,985 units over those for the same period last year.

Used car volume also gained, both over the preceding 10 days and over the same period of 1939, according to the report. Used car sales for the second 10 days were 43,535, making a total of 86,355 for the month to date. Used car sales in the same period for 1939 were 71,524 units.

WHAT'S THE BEST TIME TO APPLY FOR A JOB?

There's a lot more to seeking employment than merely being willing to work. Do you know, for example, whether a college education pays? Or, if there's a shortage of brain workers? Or, where today's biggest opportunities lie? Lyle Spencer, famous employment authority who's making a science of job-hunting, answers these questions in an important series of articles. Be sure to read them every Sunday in this Week, the coloratura magazine with Sunday's Detroit News.

RAILROADS PAY ONE-THIRD PRIMARY SCHOOL FUNDS

The Iron Horse figuratively is pulling hundreds of Crawford county and thousands of Michigan boys and girls through school, according to Floyd E. Drake, executive secretary of the Railroad Co-Operative League of Michigan. Of this county's share of the state primary school fund, Drake declares 37% comes from railroad taxes.

Crawford county's share of the current allocation of primary school fund totals $12,241.60, Drake explains, which is at the rate of $11.20 for each of its 1,093 school-age children. Of the $15,664,611.17 in the fund the railroads through taxes paid $5,759,621.27, or 37% of the total.

On this basis railroad taxes made up $4,497.37 of this county's share of the fund.

"The primary school fund is one of our state's most sacred funds and without it education of our 1,399,789 current school children would be seriously impaired," Drake said. "The biggest single tax contributors to the fund are the railroads. Thus, of the $11.20 the state gives through the fund toward the schooling of each child, $4.11 is supplied from railroad taxes. It is estimated that railroad taxes are sufficient to defray the annual cost to the public of educating 69,385 boys and girls in the state. Nationally, railroad taxes are said to make possible the education of 1,300,000."

"These railroad contributions to our schools are further proof of the vital part the lines play in our economic lives, a part now threatened by the competitive inequality they are being subjected to by unregulated other forms of transportation, none of which, incidentally, contribute a penny to public education in Michigan."

High Spots on Record-Breaking Run

Signs of the times in a motor age—these highway markers tell the story of a two-year, 100,000-mile truck test run recently completed by Chevrolet. In Canada, Mexico and every state of the Union, the truck operated on all types of highways and under every conceivable weather hazard, setting a new world mark for sustained and certified automotive operation, under the sanction and official observation of the American Automobile Association. The unit carried a 4,590-pound "payload." An average of 15.1 miles per gallon of fuel was maintained throughout the 100,000 miles, at an average operating speed of 33.07 miles per hour. Oil mileage was correspondingly high—1,072 miles per quart.
